ABOUT US

The Lakeshore Dolls are an acapella trio whose aesthetic is reminiscent of The Andrews Sisters, but who sing music ranging from 1940s standards to pop hits of today. The girls arrange all of their own music. The fact that all music is acapella not only creates a fun and interesting listening experience for the audience, but makes sound-matters relatively easy for the venue, as there are no instruments other than voices to sound check and balance, and even the use of microphones is potentially unnecessary, dependent upon the intimacy of the venue.
